

The Tortoise and the Hare

© 2014 by Liz Buchanan

All day long, watch the tortoise go.
Plodding along, his steps so slow.
And all day long, the hare goes fast!
Watch as he goes hopping past, watch as he goes hopping past.
Tortoise, so slow. Oh, so slow.
Hare, so fast, zip-zip fast. Hare so fast, zip-zip fast.

So says the hare, "How 'bout a race?
'Cause I know I will win first place!
Could the tortoise beat me? Never!"
Then the tortoise says, "Whatever."

On your mark, get set, go!

Watch that hare go go go!
Watch that hare, hopping fast!
Watch that hare go go go!
Watch that hare, hopping fast!
Here comes tortoise, oh so slow
Tortoise, he will come in last.
Hare, so fast, zip-zip fast. Hare so fast, zip-zip fast.

So says the hare, "This race is a snap.
So I think I will take a nap.
Racing with a tortoise is such a bore."
So the hare lies down and soon lets out a snore. (snoring)

Then along comes tortoise at a steady pace.
Always slow, but still in the race.
Slow, so slow, but he gets there,
And crosses the finish line before the hare!

Give steady tortoise a great big cheer!
Hip-hip hooray! Never fear.
Though hare wakes up, he's just too late,
'Cause slow and steady won the race.
Yes, tortoise kept going and got FIRST PLACE!