

CANDY

Words & Music by Judy Pancoast © 1997

There's one thing that confuses me more than any other thing in the world;

A little thing called candy, it's the joy of every boy and girl.

CHORUS:

Candy, candy

You know I really think it's dandy

I always like to keep it handy

Candy, candy

I see candy everywhere I go and you know it always looks so good,

But when I try to eat it, Mom says, "No!"

She really doesn't think I should.

REPEAT CHORUS

BRIDGE:

Well, you can bite it, you can lick it, you can give it a chew;

It's the sweetest thing I've ever seen,

But if it really is so bad for you

How come they give it out on Halloween?

REPEAT CHORUS THREE TIMES
