

Mirrors, Windows and Doors

John H. Keenan & Jo-Anne R. Wilson-Keenan

1. I pick up a book that's perfectly bound Pictures and words are there to be found When I hold it in my hand it becomes so much more
A book can be a mirror,
a window, and a door.

2. A book can be a mirror
where I gaze to see people in this world who are like me
When I see myself in a book like a bird I will soar
A book can be a mirror,
a window, and a door

3. A book can be a window to see people near and far with differences and similarities that make us who we are
When I look through the window
I understand people more
A book can be a mirror,
a window, and a door.

4. A book can be a door that opens to another world real or imagined that delights boys and girls I read words on the page but see so much more
A book can be a mirror,
a window, and a door.
