

A Habitat Is Where It's At

John Keenan & Jo-Anne Wilson-Keenan

1. A living thing
needs a place to fit in and play a role It needs food, air and water
A place that is protected
A place for young to grow

Chorus

A living thing
likes a natural home a place to hang its hat
a habitat, a habitat
a habitat is where it's at

2. The pond is a habitat with fish and frogs Insects flutter by There's plants, newts and turtles ducks and snails
and other living things before our eyes

Chorus

3. The meadow is a habitat where tall grass grows There's wild flowers and weeds There's rabbits, snakes and mice and insects all around and other living things to see

Chorus

4. The forest is a habitat with plants and trees and lots of animals too There's birds, bears and squirrels foxes and bees just to name a few

Final Chorus

There's many other places for a living thing to fit in and hang its hat
a habitat, a habitat

Ending

A habitat, a habitat
