Slow and steady. Steady and slow.
To get where you want to go.
Steady and slow. Slow and steady.
To get where you want to be.

There was a hare who laughed loudly
At a tortoise who moved slowly.
The hare bragged that because his legs were long
No one could beat him.
The tortoise said, "You're wrong!"
The hare began laughing, "What a joke!
You can't beat me! You're the slowest slow poke!"
The tortoise challenged him a little more;
He said, "I can beat you. I'm pretty sure."

Slow and steady. Steady and slow.
To get where you want to go.
Steady and slow. Slow and steady.
To get where you want to be.

The animals came to watch the race.
The hare took off. Left dust in the tortoise's face.
The hare couldn't see the tortoise after a while.
"I've as good as won this race," he thought with a smile.
There's no reason for me to hurry.
I think I'll rest under that shady tree.
He closed his eyes and fell sound asleep
While the tortoise kept moving- creep, creep, creep.

Slow and steady. Steady and slow.
To get where you want to go.
Steady and slow. Slow and steady.
To get where you want to be.

He didn't hear as the tortoise passed by.
The tortoise kept moving, he had the goal in his eye.
The tortoise stayed steady as the goal drew near.
The hare woke up. He heard a loud cheer.
He jumped up and saw he was behind
The tortoise who just crossed the finish line.
Speed isn't the answer to winning the race.
The answer is keeping a slow and steady pace!

Slow and steady. Steady and slow.
To get where you want to go.
Steady and slow. Slow and steady.
To get where you want to be.
