“Heart Beats”

(Claudia Robin Gunn)

There's a song, there's a song in all of us
There's a heartbeat heart beats like a drum
There's a rhythm in the pattern of our days and nights
It's the song, it's the song, it's the song of life

There's a dance, there's a dance in all of our chests
There's the movement in and out of each and every breath
There's a kind of choreography in our veins
It's the dance, it's the dance, the dance of days

There's a voice, there's a voice in you and me
There's a million words inside us that just need to be free
In our heads there's a jolt, a volt of lightning
It's the voice, it's the voice of connection

CHORUS

Heart beats, breaths in, blood runs in our veins
Neurons flash like neon, inspiration sparks in our brains

There's a dream, there's a dream in everyone
There's a picture in our heads of how the world should run
There's a hope and a wish and a promise and a prayer
Send the dream, the dream into the air

Heart beats, feet stamp, fingers click and hands clap X 2

There's a song, there's a song in all of us
There's a heartbeat heart beats like a drum
There's a rhythm in the pattern of our days and nights
It's the song, it's the song, it's the song of life

CHORUS

Heart beats, feet stamp, fingers click and hands clap x2
Feet fingers hands and hearts x 3
