

I've Been Waiting For You

(John Flynn, Flying Stone Music, 1999, ASCAP)

From the first moment I saw you,
I knew that you were the one.
Here in my heart
I've searched for a lifetime,
and now that lifetime's begun.
From the first moment I held you here in these trembling arms
I knew that I'd give the rest of my days
just to love you and keep you from harm.

Chorus:

I've been waiting for you. (2x)
Seems like the better part of forever is the part we've just come to.
I've been waiting for you.

So much I want you to tell me
now that you're finally here.
Why does your name always sound just like music
when I whisper it in your ear.
So much I don't know about you.
I never will understand.
How you wrap me 'round your little fingers
when you hold mine in your hand

(Chorus)

And I wrote you this song
to tell you how happy,
and how long

(Chorus)
