G D C G
When we want to know how big the deserts are
G Am D
And we need to see the jungles from afar
C Bm
The satellites can see the world and all that's green
Am C D
From far above the land and air and sea

Chorus:
G D G Am Bm
How green is the world? To see it we must fly
C D G
Away into space until it fills the sky
G D G Am Bm
The world is so big, we cannot see it all
C D G
But from far away the world can look so small

G D C G
Once a satellite flew high across the pole
G Am D
It was looking for a growing ozone hole
C Bm
But something had gone wrong, its camera took too long
Am C D
And soon the pictures didn't come at all

Chorus

G D C G
Laura flew her ship to start a rendezvous
G Am D
Tommy's rocket brought along a load of tools
C Bm
Together they would share the satellite repair
Am C D
To help it do its job above the air

Chorus
G D C G
Once the kids were done, the satellite could see
G Am D
All the algae that was living in the sea
C Bm
The hurricanes that blow, and all the Arctic snow
Am C D
And everything about the earth we know

Chorus
