

Everybody's Body

(Words and Music by Liam Maloy)

Everybody's body is different.
Everybody's body's not the same.
So, come on everybody. Find the pieces of your body.
Every bit of every body's got a name.
Every bit of every body's got a name.

Now touch your knees and give them a squeeze.
Now touch your chin and give me a grin.
Now pat your head and if you're feeling clever,
Pat you head and rub your tummy both together.

Everybody's body is different.
Everybody's body's not the same.
So, come on everybody. Find the pieces of your body.
Every bit of every body's got a name.
Every bit of every body's got a name.

Now touch your cheeks and give them a tweak.
Now touch your hair. Make sure it's still there.
Now rub your nose. Go on, I'll let you.
Now rub your nose on the nose of the person you are next to.

Ears, eyes, and lips everybody, nose, nose, nose
Knees, ankles, feet everybody, knees, knees, knees
Ears, eyes, and lips everybody, nose, nose, nose
Knees, ankles, feet everybody, knees, knees, knees

Everybody's body is different.
Everybody's body's not the same.
So, come on everybody. Find the pieces of your body.
Every bit of every body's got a name.
Every bit of every body's got a name.
