

Recycling

(Words and Music by Liam Maloy)

We're turning old things [bang!] into new things [bang! bang!].
It's exciting! [bang! bang! bang!]. We're recycling!

Baked bean tins. Don't throw 'em in the bin. Do a special thing we call recycling.
Christmas cards. Old jam jars. Spare guitars. We're recycling

Recycling. Every day.
Recycling. Not throwing away.
Recycling everything we can
Recycling. To turn old things ...
Recycling. ... into new things.
That sounds like a very good plan. Recycling.

Old Shampoos. Pizza menus. Grandad's shoes. We're recycling
Envelopes. Tunes and notes. Daddy's old jokes. We're recycling

Recycling. Every day.
Recycling. Not throwing away.
Recycling everything we can
Recycling. To turn old things ...
Recycling. ... into new things.
That sounds like a very good plan. Recycling.

Recycling. Yes, we can! [repeat x4]

Bottles and cans and frying pans. Toilet rolls. Socks full of holes.
Old CDs. Dead batteries. Recycling.

Mobile phones. Broken trombones. Magazines. Trampolines.
Cardboard box. Professor Brian Cox. Recycling.

Recycling. Every day.
Recycling. Not throwing away.
Recycling everything we can
Recycling. To turn old things ...
Recycling. ... into new things.
That sounds like a very good plan. Recycling.

Recycle. Yes, we can! [repeat x4]
