

Giant and Colossal Squid

Giant squid and colossal squid
Well they're...no – not the same, no, no siree!
But they both can battle whales,
They've got tentacles, not tails
And they live down deep under the sea

CHORUS: They've got no bones – they're invertebrates
No spinal columns, it's true they have no bones (have no bones)
And though they may be fast when they swim under the sea
On land, they can't wave like you and me
And on land they can't wiggle like you and me
And on land they can't dance like you and me

Colossal squid can weigh 1000 pounds
And they've been rarely seen by folks like you and me
But a few years ago
Some sailors saw one from their boat
And brought her back for scientists to study

CHORUS: (stomp, shake, dance)

Giant squid have very large brains
So it's likely that they're also really smart
They've got the largest eyes around
And I know how strange it's gonna sound
But they've got three instead of just one beating heart!

CHORUS: (tip toe, twist, dance)

TAG: That's right on land they can't dance like you and me.
Oh no, on land they can't dance like you and me!
