P:	No, ... not til you're all grown up!
Leon:	Aw! Pooky-fuuu!!
Chad:	Leon!?
Leon:	I didn't swear!
P:	"Pooky-fuu!" Good word!
Chad:	Peter, you're not helping.
P:	That's okay, ... I'm the Grandad!!
Chad:	Hmmm.
Norm:	Hi Ricky. I'm Norm.
Ricky:	I know.
Norm:	So, ... what do you want to be when you grow up?
Ricky:	An anthropologist.
Norm:	(laughs) Wow! So, ... you know what an anthropologist is?
Ricky:	Of course. My Dad's an anthropologist.
Norm:	Stuart!?

Stu: Actually I'm a musician, ... but I told Ricky that when I get bored, ... I put on my "anthropologist hat", and I look around, and say to myself, ... "Hmm, the people around here, ... in this strange tribe, are very interesting!" Then I'm not bored!

Quin: What's Anthropology?

Stu: It comes from the words 'Anthro', ... which means 'man', ... and 'ology', which means "to study", ... so it's the study of man.

Quin: You don't study women too?!

P: The word "man" can mean, ... "men AND women", .. like the word "mankind", ... it means everyone.

Quin: No fair! What if girls just said the word "womankind" means "everyone", ... men too! Men wouldn't like that!

Stu: Good point!

Ricky: When I put on my Anthropologist hat, I watch other kids. Their behaviors are very interesting.
