

The Spaceship That Fell In My Backyard- Title Version

---

At first I thought I must be dreaming
I looked up and saw something gleaming,
Then a spaceship whooshed and fell in my backyard

“Greetings earthling,” something said then a beam lit up the flower bed coming from the spaceship that fell in my backyard

CHORUS:

The neon lights, the smoke that’s slowly rising
It came here from beyond the blue horizon
My friends will laugh when I tell them later but then they’ll come and see the crater
The spaceship made, that fell in my backyard.

A creature opened up the door,
Why she’s here I’m not quite sure,
Did she drive spaceship that fell in my backyard?
I didn’t know if I should hide,
Or try to sneak a peak inside
Of the shiny spaceship that fell in my backyard

REPEAT CHORUS
