

Like a Dinosaur

---

Jack was determined today he would find
Answers to riddles that cluttered his mind
He mapped out a plan and he drew up a chart
Counted his clues and got ready to start

1 I found footprints that don't make much sense
2 are the gaping new holes in the fence
3 I heard noises while sleeping last night
4 I'm suspicious that something isn't right

We're gonna stomp, stomp all around the floor
Stomp, stomp like a dinosaur
Stomp, stomp let me hear you all roar
And then quiet way down I'd like to tell you some more

Well first are the footprints as large as a Jeep
Spread ten feet apart and sunken down deep
Well what kind of beast could make footprints like those?
Something that's bigger than me I suppose

Second I noticed the fence had some holes
Each just as wide as two street hockey goals
Well what kind of beast could have made such a mess?
Something that's bigger than me I would guess
We're gonna stomp, stomp all around the floor
Stomp, stomp like a dinosaur
Stomp, stomp let me hear you all roar
And then quiet way down I'd like to tell you some more

Third I remembered those deep rumbling roars
That shattered the windows and it shook all the doors
What could kind of beast could make noises so pure?
Something that's bigger than me I am sure

Fourth I know something is terribly wrong
I think that the beast might come before long
Jack put on his coat and he tied up his shoes
Picked up his notebook and counted his clues

We're gonna stomp, stomp all around the floor
Stomp, stomp like a dinosaur
Stomp, stomp let me hear you all roar
And then quiet way down I'd like to tell you some more

Well just as he opened and he walked through the door
Once again Jack heard that deep rumbling roar
He looked straight ahead, his eyes opened wide
There was a T-Rex in his backyard outside

Stomp, stomp, stomp, stomp
Stomp, stomp, stomp, stomp
Stomp, stomp, stomp, stomp
Roar!!!

Well it was a strange thing or so you may think
To play with a beast that you thought was extinct
But Jack and the T-Rex had hours of fun
Before it went home and their play date was done.

We're gonna stomp, stomp all around the floor
Stomp, stomp like a dinosaur
Stomp, stomp let me hear you all roar
And then quiet way down because there ain't nothing more
